Dig
Children experience the world through their senses. ³

Plant
Childhood gardening influences views on nature during adulthood. ²

Water
Gardens teach children the regenerative process of nature. ³

Explore
Natural settings challenge children, which improves their developing motor skills. ¹

Taste
Eating habits are established by age 15.
Gardens stimulate taste.
Children who garden are more willing to taste and consume more vegetables.

Join us for a Program
A garden is an environment that promotes development through creativity and interaction.

Conserve
Garden participation improves environmental attitudes.
